Deliveroo did it again! They've told us what we love the most, in case we didn't already know.

According to these experts in food delivery, CALI-POKE, from Dubai, is the most ordered poke in the whole world!

Poke is a traditional Pacific Island dish of raw fish marinated in a blend of soy sauce and sesame oil, often including seafood. The Hawaiian word 'poke' translates as "to slice or chop." CALI-POKE cover a colourful range in their menu, with popular signature bowls, authentic poke sauces and health-conscious combinations you won't find elsewhere.

2019 and 2020 already saw it listed as one of the most famous foods, and now, the brand born in California, made in Hawaii and tasted globally, has racked up another accolade. Poke bowls make up 40 per cent of the global top ten most popular dishes, so CALI-POKE are quite right to celebrate this placing. Have you tried it yet? What are we talking about? Of course, you have.
